Who Is This Course For?

This course is designed for those working with children and young people in a wide range of settings who wish to improve their practice and specialist learning. This includes settings for children and young people, playwork, health and social care, youth justice and Supporting Teaching and Learning.

What Can I Learn On This Course?

This qualification develops the knowledge and the skills necessary for effective communication and how to identify development needs and support for individuals. Speech, language and communication skills are essential for learning and social and emotional well-being, therefore it’s important that practitioners understand what typical development looks like for different age groups. Placements or employment are required for achievement of this qualification as you need to show competence in both knowledge and skills.

How Is This Course Delivered?

This course is delivered in a classroom environment where you’ll be encouraged to participate in discussions. There may also be some independent work to do at home.

What Will I Need To Bring With Me?

You may wish to bring refreshments with you to lessons as an on-site café is not available. You are also welcome to bring a pen and notepad to take notes.

What Skills Or Experience Do I Need?

No prior qualifications are required but you must have attended a Speech, Language and Communication taster session prior to starting this qualification so your tutor can assess suitability.

How Will My Work Be Assessed?

There are no formal exams. You will complete an e-portfolio of evidence which will hold all work and evidence towards the assessed units. Your tutor will also assess you in a variety of methods, such as:
Assignments

Observations

Reflective accounts

Professional discussion

The awarding body is NCFE/Cache.

What Can I Do After The Course?

Depending on skills and experience you could progress onto:
Level 3 Diploma Technical Occupational Entry for the Early Years Workforce

Level 3 Diploma in Supporting Teaching and Learning
